

The Craig A. Winkelmann Health Professions Scholarship

An Endowed Scholarship of the Pi Kappa Phi Foundation

Award Application 2010

Background

Dr. Craig A. Winkelmann is an initiate and re-founding father of the Alpha Rho chapter at West Virginia University. Initiated into Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity as a sophomore in 1978, Brother Winkelmann helped lead his chapter to success by serving as Warden during the time leading up to chartering. Following chartering, Brother Winkelmann went on to serve as Secretary, Treasurer, Vice Archon, and Archon of Alpha Rho. Now the owner of a successful dentistry practice in South Florida, he understands the critical role Fraternity played in his life and encourages deserving students interested in health care professions to leverage their own Pi Kappa Phi experience into a meaningful career.

Funds for this scholarship are retained and managed by the Pi Kappa Phi Foundation and is awarded to one deserving undergraduate or graduate student per year. This year's award is $500.

Criteria

Winners of the Dr. Craig A. Winkelmann Health Professions Scholarship show a strong commitment to academic excellence. While the rigors of post-graduate academic work require dedication as an undergraduate, it is also this work done in the classroom as a chapter member which sets an example for all other brothers to follow. In the spirit of leading by example, recipients of this scholarship must have also demonstrated significant service to their undergraduate chapter. Just as Brother Winkelmann served as a re-founding father and in numerous officer positions for Alpha Rho, those students desiring serious consideration should also stand out among their peers.

Special consideration for this award will be given to all qualified Alpha Rho initiates who apply. In the event there are no applicants from Alpha Rho chapter, then equal consideration will be given to those from other chapters.

To be eligible for this award, you must be a 1st year graduate student or Senior already accepted into an accredited health professions program. Students intending to study or are currently enrolled in the following fields are considered eligible: dentistry, osteopathic medicine, physical therapy, occupational therapy, and general medicine. Weighted consideration will be given in the order the fields of study were listed. In addition to having achieved high standards in scholarship, you must have also shown leadership within the chapter. See other criteria below.

In order for your application to be considered, you must comply with the following:

- 1. You are an initiated member who is in good standing with the Fraternity. If a senior, your chapter Treasurer must initial the application attesting to your good standing status. If a graduate student, then your status as determined by the National Fraternity will suffice.
